WHAT COMES NEXT?

- o Reviewing the charts is the start.
- o Analysis and discussion follows:
 - What are the barriers to long term stability?
 - What has worked in the past for those children who are stable?
 - Are placements made with relatives?
 - What supports might help with placement stability?
 - Are there children for whom we can find permanency?

MINNESOTA'S PERFORMANCE FOR RE-ENTRY

C1.4: Of all children discharged from foster care to reunification in the 12-month period prior to the year shown, what percentage reentered care in less than 12 months from the date of discharge?	2005	2006	2007	2008	2009	2010
	26.5	26.1	26.5	24.2

- In 2010 our re-entry rate was 24.5%. Our improvement since 2006 has been slight and unreliable.
- Georgia has put a huge emphasis on examining the data routinely and evaluating outcomes. Their re-entry rate is currently 3.5%.
- Georgia has 9,967 kids in care versus our 5,756. Their median length of stay is 15.6 months while ours is 11.7 months.

ANALYSIS AND BRAINSTORMING

- Who are the children re-entering in your agency? Who are not?
- What forces are at work to prevent re-entry in those non-re-entry cases?
- Might any of the identified strengths in non-re-entry cases support new placements as they are made?
