SSIS update

Social Services Information System

Issue 333
 September 30, 2011

Familiar documents are not "lost"

When you create a new document in SSIS, the system automatically saves a copy of the document in the "My Documents" folder. This ensures that you always have a backup of your work, even if you accidentally delete the original document. The "My Documents" folder is located in the SSIS application directory. You can find it by navigating to the "Tools" menu and selecting "My Documents".

For more information, please refer to the SSIS User Manual, Chapter 5, "Working with Documents".

Save Configuration renamed and improved

The "Save Configuration" dialog box has been renamed to "Save Configuration and Settings" and its functionality has been enhanced. The new dialog box allows you to save your current configuration and settings to a file, which can be used to restore the system to its previous state. This is particularly useful for users who have made customizations to the system and want to preserve them.

The new dialog box includes a "Save" button and a "Cancel" button. The "Save" button is only visible when the "Save Configuration and Settings" checkbox is checked. The "Cancel" button is always visible.

STOP The "Save Configuration" dialog box has been renamed to "Save Configuration and Settings". The new dialog box allows you to save your current configuration and settings to a file, which can be used to restore the system to its previous state.

Lightbulb The "Save Configuration and Settings" dialog box has been improved. The new dialog box includes a "Save" button and a "Cancel" button. The "Save" button is only visible when the "Save Configuration and Settings" checkbox is checked. The "Cancel" button is always visible.
